

STATE PARKS GENERAL PLAN UPDATE: EL CAPITAN, REFUGIO, AND GAVIOTA

DRAFT GAVIOTA STATE PARK VISION STATEMENT

Gaviota State Park is a spectacular setting for both active and passive recreation, serving as an accessible beach for inland communities and providing year-round camping opportunities within the park unit. Visitors enjoy scenic views of their dynamic environmental surroundings along backcountry trails, which are well connected to regional trail opportunities. Interpretation at the park conveys the area's important and historic role in cultural and natural history, especially the legacy and heritage of California Native American tribes. Resilient natural ecosystems support the park's ecological health, resilience, and biodiversity.

Sustainable visitor amenities, infrastructure, and park operations are designed and maintained to adapt to changing conditions and environments, ensuring year-round park access for all visitors.
